

QUALITIES OF A BISHOP STUDENT

Teaching students our broad and balanced curriculum is only one aspect of helping them develop into professional and successful young adults. Students also need to learn other key skills to help them work in a team, overcome difficulties and understand the purpose of their studies. Therefore, all our students are taught to develop the habits and mindset of Bishop students, which are built around the Learning Applications or “LApps” that students and staff share in school. We can refer to these applications in lessons, ACWs (Acts of Collective Worship), during Mentor Time, and by referring to the posters in every classroom around the school.

We strive to teach every 'Bishop' student to live their life according to the three academy mantras. We have high expectations of everything they do, so that they do not let excuses get in the way of them achieving their potential; we teach them to have the courage to be wise, making the right choices both in school and the wider community; and we do this so that we live life to the full, making the most of every opportunity that comes their way.
